Dear Girl Scout Volunteers,

Over the past 108 years, our organization has seen many difficult times. And through every challenge of the last century, we have persisted.

We are leaders. We are innovators. And we know that in ordinary and extraordinary times alike, Girl Scouts are a powerful force that makes the world a better place.

We know in the coming weeks you will be looking for new ways to deliver on our mission of building girls of courage, confidence, and character – all of which are much needed in our city and in the world right now.

As we innovate to lessen the disruption, please know that supporting you and your girls is our number one priority.

To that end, every Thursday starting March 19 from 6-8 pm, I will host a webinar where we'll discuss virtual and at-home program options and I will lead us all in a discussion so we can, together, lift up best practices.

No one leads alone. And when women support each other, great things happen.

Together, we will do our best to navigate through these times and make our girls' world a better place.

Yours in Girl Scouting,
